NUMBER 29.

New School Law.

(Editorial)

The purpose of this article is not to criticize the new school law but to call attention of the people of Garrard County to the importance to look after the election of the new school board. In our local news is an outline of its provisions and requirements. The people will take notice that this new school board, composed of five, has large powers. They are privileged to lay a levy of taxes for school purposes for what they estimate to be required to supplement teacher's salaries and other expenditures and the Fiscal Court of the County is compelled to levy and collect this tax for them. The Court of Appeals has already decided that this power of the Board cannot be questioned.

This board has the unquestioned right to expend this money as they see fit for school purposes. Not only is the Board authorized to collect taxes but the success of the schools of Garrard County depend upon the character of the board. The law presumes that this school board be non-partisan. At least there should be no politics involved in the selection of this board of five. There will be candidates upon a non-political ballot and we hope that the parents and patrons of our schools will take enough interest in this school election, which takes place at the same time and in the same booth as the regular November election, to see that we have suitable candidates of non-political character, from which the people may select five good members of the Board. Since the women have been granted the right of suffrage and are taking an active part in politics they should have membership and have representation upon this board. These petitions must be signed by at least fifty qualified voters and the petition must be filed with the County Clerk at least fifteen days prior to November 2nd. If you are interested in better schools in Garrard County and interested in having your tax money properly spent, get interested in this school election, file your petition with the County Clerk immediately and tell the people what you will do for them in an economical and wise administration of the school affairs if elected on the board. We have not heard of any candidates up to date.

New Lamp Posts.

Two new electric light lamp post have recently been erected on each side of the main entrance of the post office, which adds very materially to the handsome structure, not only as an ornament, but as a necessity as well.

Preconceived Opinions.

Preconceived opinions persistently insisted upon, have been bars to human advancement. The preconceived opinions of some held for many centuries, that the earth had four corners and that the sun moved, proved to be a great error, yet it was predicted on very good authority it seemed to them doubtless.

Preconceived opinions condemned to death a very eminent philosopher for asserting that a feather would fall to the earth as quickly as a bullet, if the air was excluded.

These opinions in time were superseded by advanced thought. Both sides of the questions should be carefully examined before passed upon. The self complacency of some men in the coarseness of their position, when asserting their opinions in affairs, both political and religious, are amusing if not pathetic to a thoughtful mind and rank as nothing less than rampant phariseism of the most rigid type, whose preconceived opinions sent the Savior of mankind to his death upon the cross. BOLT OF WOMENNebraska Leaders Desert Harding For Cox

OMAHA, NEB.—Republicans in Nebraska are lying awake nights worrying whether the new woman vote is going to throw the state to Cox.

That worry has a solid foundation, too. For a sensation has just been sprung in Nebraska politics by the sudden public revolt of three of the state's leading Republican women.

All three have severed their connections with their party and have refused to support the Republican presidential ticket because of Harding's stand against the League of Nations. All will support Cox.

Are High in Party

They are Mrs. Z. T. Lindsey, who has resigned from the state Republican committee; Mrs. H. C. Sumney, resigned as Republican ward committee woman, and Mrs. James Richardson, who has quit her work at Republican headquarters. All are from Omaha.

"I put principles before party," said Mrs. Sumney. "I worked for the League of Nations when the late Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and W. H. Taft were touring the country in its behalf and I see no reason to change my mind."

"I cannot conscientiously vote for Harding," said Mrs. Lindsey, "because I think the League of Nations is the most important issue that has ever come before the people. Its establishment is the only way to end wars."

Will Follow Leaders

That thousands of women will follow these three suffrage leaders is conceded. It will throw a big vote to Cox in Nebraska and likely will have a decidedly favorable effect on the League of Nations issue generally.

Were it not for this strong Democratic drift among women and the obvious inclination toward Cox of the Nonpartisan League, Nebraska could be put down as assured for Harding.

But these factors, together with the fact that labor in the state appears to be largely for Cox, have made Democrats decidedly optimistic of carrying Nebraska.

OPENING NUMBERThe Redpath Lyceum Course At School Auditorium

Oct. 21st.

The first number of the Redpath Lyceum Course to be given at the school building during the 1920-21 season, will be offered on Thursday evening, October 21st, at eight o'clock in the School Auditorium. This course has been selected from the standpoint of the needs and interest of the community and it is sincerely hoped that the public will support the series liberally and graciously. The guarantors are public spirited men, who ask nothing in return save the consciousness of having rendered a service. The entire net proceeds from the series will be given to the library fund of the Lancaster City Schools.

The following program will be offered:

The Artist's Trio—Oct. 21, 1920.
The Novelty Four—in Dec. or Jan. 1921.

The Fine Arts Quartette—March 4th, 1921.

Mr. Chester M. Sanford, Lecturer—April 20th., 1921.

The individual members of these groups as artists of splendid ability and are successful entertainers in their respective lines. Therefore we can promise their audiences evenings of genuine interest and enjoyment.

Season tickets may be secured from certain children of the school or from the superintendent on and after Friday, October 15th., 1920. Price $1.75.

Sutton.

The remains of Mr. Eugene Sutton were brought to Lancaster Monday from Phoenix, Ariz., where he died last Saturday of tuberculosis, after an illness of several years. Mr. Sutton was raised and was well known in this city where he lived for many years, before going to a Western state seeking to regain his failing health. He was a brother of Mrs. J. E. Dickerson, of this city and the remains were brought to this home, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. D. Strother yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, interment taking place immediately after in the Lancaster cemetery.

SCHOOL BALLOTMust Not be Overlooked Nonpartisan Vote.

In every county in Kentucky November 2nd will be held an election designed to revolutionize the rural school system of the State.

On that date the voters of each county will elect a non-partisan County Board of Education composed of five members from the county at large, who next year will appoint a County School Superintendent.

On account of the national election however, so far as representatives of the Department of Education have reported, little attention is being paid the school election, and a majority of the people have forgotten that there was to be one.

These trustees, two of whom serve for one year, one for two years, one for three and one for four, are elected on a separate ballot, containing no party devices. They are nominated by petition. The petition must be signed by fifty resident voters and filed with the County Clerk at least fifteen days before the election. That would be on or before October 18th.

Only Rural Voters Eligible.

Only those residing in rural school districts are eligible to vote for or to serve as members of the county board. This excludes residents of cities having independent schools and residents of graded school districts. County Superintendents, whose terms expire next year and desire to continue by appointment are reported busy getting signatures to petitions for their states. Under the new law the county board will have as wide discretion as a city board in selecting superintendents of county schools, and may employ anyone who is qualified regardless of where he resides in or out of the State. The minimum salary will be $1,200.

The reformation of the common school system was designed to attain an organization which will lift the rural schools of most counties out of a rut. They are starved by the rural graded school districts in many counties.

JUDGE CLAYDelivers Masterly Address At Paint Lick.

One of the best, if not the very best Democratic speech that has been made in Garrard county during the present campaign, was that of Judge Rogers Clay, Judge of the Court of Appeals, and candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket this November, made at Paint Lick last Saturday night before a large and intelligent audience.

Judge Clay spoke for an hour or more and held the attention of his hearers throughout the entire time, explaining in detail the essential features of the League of Nations and the importance of it. He was proud of the woman suffrage amendment and urged those ladies with the importance of them exercising this privilege and felt that it was their duty to vote at the polls on November 2nd.

Judge Clay was entertained by friends during his short stay in Lancaster and all concede that his past record on the bench of the Court of Appeals has made his calling and election sure.

Football Tickets Result In Fatal Shooting.

Arthur Denman, a Nicholasville merchant, was shot last Thursday afternoon by Prof. T. B. Threlkeld, head of a select school for boys in that city, in a quarrel arising over the sale of football tickets, and died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington yesterday morning, where he was taken immediately after the shooting took place.

Denman's brother, William, gave his version of the shooting at the time and said it was the result of a disagreement between himself and Prof. Threlkeld over the sale of football tickets to games to be played by the school of which Threlkeld is principal.

Leave Us AfterMany Years Service.

Mrs. Clarence Wilder, who has been a faithful employee of the Record office for the past nine years, will together with her husband leave for Indianapolis this week where they will make their future home. During her service while in this office she has made many friends among patrons of the Record and they as well as ourselves will regret that she is to leave Lancaster permanently. May success attend them both in their new field of labor.

MRS. GIBSONSpeaks Here Saturday.

Mrs. Ida McGlone Gibson, author and speaker, has been secured by the Democratic Committee to address the citizens of Garrard county at the court house next Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Gibson is one of the most talented speakers on the platform in the state of Kentucky. We have every reason to think that one of the most representative audiences that ever graced the auditorium of the house of justice, will be on hand next Saturday afternoon, to hear this noted speaker and writer, expound the Democratic doctrine, incident to the present campaign. A large portion of the hall will be reserved for the ladies, who are urged to attend and especially invited.

TRAGIC DEATHOf Mrs. Lee Palmer Near Kirksville.

The hand of affliction has again fallen heavily upon the family of Mr. Lee Palmer. Last Monday while Mrs. Palmer was attending to some washing in the yard of her home, her dress accidentally caught fire from the blaze under the wash kettle and in less time than it takes to tell her entire body was a sheet of flames. Her screams attracted the attention of her husband and daughter, who ran to her after some difficulty, extinguished the flames, but not until it had done its deadly work. Mrs. Palmer was carried into her home and all that could be done for her but without avail. After much suffering she passed into the Great Beyond, twelve hours later. The remains were brought to Lancaster for interment yesterday afternoon, after appropriate services at the Kirksville church by Rev. F. M. Tindler.

About four years ago, a daughter of this family was accidentally killed on the hill near Hackley, by being thrown from a buggy, caused by a runaway horse. Beside her husband, Mrs. Palmer is survived by six children, the youngest only four years old.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the distressed family in this dire affliction.

FOOT BALLHigh School Wins.

In what was considered one of the very best games of Foot Ball ever seen on the local Gridiron was staged here last Friday when McRoberts blue warriors walloped the Nicholasville Eleven to the tune of 7 to 0. The local lads fought from the first to the very last and displayed a wonderful knowledge of the game and showed that they were not in the game to bring individual honors but played for the honor that brought to that wonderful institution of learning the Lancaster High School of which everybody in Garrard County is justly proud.

Capt. Pearson's men from Jessamine played a nice clean game and fought hard but they were unable to make any gains through the lines of Capt. Holtzclaws, whose team held like as history tells us—Stonewall Jackson.

We cannot say that any one on the team starred for the local lads as they all played excellent ball. Coach McRoberts tried out several of his men and they all made good showing.

The following is the line for last Friday: Cochran, Eugene; Cochran, S. D.; Cox, Hamilton; Holtzclaw, Stapp; Sanders; Swope; Crutchfield; Kavanaugh; Stagner; Anderson; Moore; Aldridge and Elliott.

The E. H. S. Girls were partly the cause of the winning of this game by the cheers from the side line.

A good crowd will go over to Lincoln County and see our boys do the Hustonville Eleven up the same as they did Nicholasville, Friday.

Meeting Closes Tonight.

The protracted meeting which has been in session at the Baptist church for the past two weeks closes tonight. The meeting has increased with interest each night and some splendid sermons have been delivered by Rev. Compton during that time. About twenty-five addition have been added to the church. Baptismal services will be conducted at the Conn pond on the Richmond road next Sunday afternoon.

MRS. CHRISTINEBRADLEY SOUTH*Warmly Greeted By Friends Here Last Saturday.*MANY AT RECEPTION GIVEN IN HER HONOR.

What was recognized as one of the most notable events in local annals and one that attracted widespread interest, was the visit of Mrs. Christine Bradley South to her childhood home here last Saturday, a culmination, we dare say, of a desire upon her part to visit the scenes of her girlhood and meet friends and loved ones that are still dear and dear to her heart.

When the announcement was published that Mrs. South was to address the citizens of this county upon the political issues of the present campaign, her friends, irrespective of political affiliation, decided that a reception must be given in her honor, which was done, the parlors of the Kengarian Hotel being profusely decorated for this happy occasion.

Mrs. Lem Teater, chairman of the Women's Committee of the Republican campaign, must be given every credit for the splendid work she did in carrying out so methodically, the program of the reception and which proved such a delightful pleasure to the hundreds of ladies and men that lent their presence to the occasion.

Mrs. South was accompanied to Lancaster by Dr. South and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Bradley and after taking dinner with Mr. J. M. Duncan and Miss Jennie Duncan, came immediately to the hotel, where the reception was held from 12:30 to 1:30 P. M. Dr. South and Mrs. Bradley were also warmly greeted at the reception, sharing the honors equally with Mrs. South.

On the reception committee with Mrs. Teater, were Mrs. J. B. Kinnaid, Mrs. Wm. Lear, Mrs. W. T. West, Mrs. J. A. Amon, Mrs. H. V. Bastin, Mrs. Ross Bastin, Mrs. Sam Cotton, Mrs. J. E. Robinson and Miss Virgie Bourne.

Mrs. South was billed to speak at the court house at 1:30 and when the speakers arrived the house was literally packed, with an overflow crowd almost as large. Mrs. South spoke nearly an hour and many times during her address was overcome with emotions, speaking with much feeling of the return to her old home, saying that she looked upon all, both Republican and Democrats as her friends and neighbors.

Mrs. South is a Republican by birth, with a pedigree without a missing link, a pleasing and attractive speaker and has a command of the English, that in many respects reminds one of her illustrious father.

She was followed by Hon. King Swope, who spoke for over an hour on the political issues, the crowd remaining during the entire time. Mrs. South also addressed an overflow crowd from the steps of the court house while Congressman Swope spoke in the auditorium.

Altogether it was a great day for the Republicans and one that will be long remembered by them.

WOODS FARMBrings Over $300.00*An Acre.

Through the astute acumen and energetic efforts of Mr. R. G. Woods of Paint Lick, who had the sale in charge, the splendid farm of Mr. J. B. Woods was sold Tuesday to various party's at an average of $301.40 an acre. The farm contained over 300 acres and was considered one of the best in the Paint Lick neighborhood. Of course it was in Garrard county and was said by many to have been one of the best conducted sales ever held in the county. The farm was well improved and was well worth the money, so knowing ones tell us.

Mr. Woods has recently purchased a handsome home in this city and will move here about January 1st.

Sells Good Cow.

Mr. James A. Beazley sold his prize milk cow this morning to Mr. Sam Haselden for $350. This is said to be the best Jersey cow in the county and makes about 14 pounds of butter a week. A good price but a dandy cow.

BECKHAMANSWERS*His Stand on Irish Question Pleases Populace.

Writing under the Caption "A Contrast" the Louisville Evening Post recently published an editorial on the Irish question, that has won so much favorable comment that requests have poured in from the State that it be reprinted. It follows:

"Judge O'Doherty speaks, we doubt not at all, for the large majority of the intelligent men and women of Irish birth and descent when he commends the frank and manly answer given by Senator Beckham to those who inquired of him if he will, if elected, vote to 'recognize the Irish Republic.'"

"Senator Beckham made not the slightest attempt to evade the issue. He, first, affirmed his entire approval of that plank in the Democratic platform at San Francisco that expresses sympathy with the aspiration of the Irish people for self-governments. Referring to the specific question, Mr. Beckham answered 'No,' pointing out that his first duty is to America, and that the passage of such a resolution by Congress would be tantamount to a declaration of war against Great Britain, and would not help Ireland."

Relative to this straight forward answer, Judge O'Doherty says:

"Mr. Beckham gave that answer, and so far from forfeiting thereby the good opinion of American citizens of Irish birth or descent, it has, as I happened to know, and, as it should do, raised him in their estimation. Citizens of Irish birth or descent do not give a divided allegiance to the flag of their country. They are Americans first and before all else, while never wavering in their affectionate regard for the land of their ancestors."

And the fact should be noted that Mr. J. H. Richmond, Democratic nominee for Congress from this District, made an answer equally as frank, and to the same effect as that of Senator Beckham.

"So much for these two Democratic candidates. It should be remembered that the same question was duly propounded to Mr. R. F. Ernst, Republican nominee for Senator, and Mr. Chas. F. Ogden, Republican nominee for Congress in this district. So far as we are advised Mr. Ernst has refused to answer the question in any way. He would not preside in that course. It may be that Senator Beckham has lost a few votes by the course he adopted. We do not believe it, and yet it may be so. But Mr. Beckham had the courage to state his position. Why is Mr. Ernst silent? Is he afraid to speak?"

"Mr. Ogden has made an answer, if we can dignify the tortuous evasion which marked his letter with that title. Unlike Mr. Beckham or Mr. Richmond he refused to state where he stands. The future is so in doubt, says Mr. Ogden, that he cannot say what he will do. Mr. Beckham and would do under existing conditions, Mr. Richmond were asked what they and they answered, Mr. Ogden did not see fit to take such a course."

Why is Dick Ernst silent?

Is he afraid to answer questions on Recognition of the Irish Republic?

Christian Church Notes

The new way of having the opening and closing exercises of the Sunday School conducted by the different departments is proving quite interesting.

The Juniors were in charge last Sunday under the direction of Miss Martha Ward Sweeney and Mrs. V. A. Lear. Mrs. J. B. Kinnaid, the Superintendent of the Junior Department, was unable to be present. Next Sunday Mrs. Henry Moore and the Intermediates will be in charge. They will have something interesting and all attendants are urged to be present on time—by 9:45 if possible.

The subject of next Sunday morning's sermon will be "The Autumn Leaves." A look at the autumn leaves ought to be interesting to all and a consideration of the lessons which they teach ought to be helpful to all. The evening subject will be "A Quadrennial Spasm: Our Presidential Election." Unless the Baptist revival continues over Sunday evening and it is thought best to discontinue again with the evening services.

Fishermen Return.

The party of fishermen who spent the week on the Cumberland have returned and report a delightful trip. They had fine sport and brought some "coos" home with them.

His Excuse
Jack was the most mischievous little boy in the neighborhood. His mother had the habit of always trying to excuse his pranks. One day he got into trouble about tampering with a water faucet in the yard of the woman next door. "Why did you do it?" she asked. "Oh, I'm too young to know any better," the little boy assured her.

Left Nothing Worth Stealing.
When a motor car broke down at Westley, R. L., the members of the party rolled it to one side and then stripped it, taking all the removable parts, including the wheels, to a garage. This insured the rest staying where it was until the garage man refitted the parts next day and towed the car to his repair shop.

USE GREEN TOMATOES TO MAKE MARMALADE

Recipe Given Out by Department of Agriculture.

Caramel Flavor Given by Increasing Heat at Very Last—Rind of Lemon and Orange Give Somewhat Different Effect.

(By U. S. Public Health Service).
To those who are fond of the pleasant flavor of green tomatoes in made dishes, the following recipe for marmalade, given out by the department of agriculture, will be welcome:

Green Tomato Marmalade.

2 pounds green tomatoes.
1½ cup of syrup.
One-half lemon and 1 orange, or one-quarter cup sugar.
2½ lemons (10 ounces).

Wash and trim tomatoes, cut into slices medium thick. Cut lemon and orange into very thin slices. (Be careful to pick out all seeds). Add syrup and sugar. A small amount of salt (one-eighth to one-fourth teaspoonful) is often considered advantageous; here, as always, it renders the sweet taste of sugar less cloying. Boiling orange peel for a few minutes in salted water prevents its hardening later, when cooked in syrup.

Heat slowly, stirring until well mixed, then simmer gently until the tomatoes are soft and the marmalade has the consistency of thick, heavy jam. This will require three to four hours. There should be about one pint of marmalade.

If a caramel flavor is liked, the heat may be slightly increased at the very last so that the jam darkens at the bottom next the kettle; but great care must be taken not to overdo this effect as the jam is easily scorched.

A somewhat different effect may be obtained by chopping the rind of lemon and orange. At the end of the long cooking process these bits of chopped rind seem much like chopped nuts.

Orange flavor in preserves does not last indefinitely, apart from the tang of the rind. Consequently this marmalade is best when only a few days or weeks old.

WATCH LABELS ON BOTTLES

Poisons Should Be Kept Under Lock and Key—Antidotes to Be Used.

(By United States Public Health Service.)

Accidental poisoning may be prevented to a very great extent by never tasting or taking anything into the mouth which is not plainly labeled. It is also very wise to put all poisons, when they must be kept on hand, in a safe place and under lock and key.

Sudden and severe sickness shortly after eating, drinking or taking medicine in a person who has been in good health, is often a symptom of poisoning.

If a number of persons who have eaten the same food become seriously ill after a meal, it is almost certain that they are suffering from poisoning, probably from that form of poisoning which is due to decayed, fermented or rotten food, and which is termed "ptomaine poisoning." Such accidents should always be reported to the department of health for careful investigation.

Send for a doctor at once. Direct the messenger to tell the doctor that the person has been poisoned and give the name of the suspected poison if possible, so that the doctor may bring the proper antidote.

Do not wait for the doctor to arrive but give an emetic to aid in ridding the body of the unabsorbed poison. Warm water, mustard and water, salt water, ipecac or other common emetic may be employed, or the patient's throat may be tickled to produce vomiting. Do not waste time in looking up the proper dose of an emetic and repeat if profuse vomiting does not result.

SALT PESKY FLEAS TO DEATH

Pests Usually Get Into House Through Basement or Other Places Where Dogs Sleep.

Last year was an unusually bad year for fleas about houses. The time is again at hand when, though the voice of the flea may not be heard in the land, his tickling will be felt in the flesh—unless the simple preventive is applied. Fleas usually get into the house from the basement or some place where dogs or other animals have slept. Make a thorough clean-up. Then sprinkle the floor well with salt and wet it down—not wet enough to cause it to run. It may be necessary to repeat this treatment two or three times at intervals of about three days.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

Cold roast pork makes a nice mock chicken salad.

Fine white stockings make excellent wash cloths.

Canned or fresh blackberries make a delicious shortcake.

Cheese should never be placed in a tightly covered dish or jar.

If your cake frosting becomes sugary add a teaspoonful of vinegar to it.

Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, Congressman Chas. F. Ogden and other Republican speakers in Kentucky are stooping to falsehoods in discussing the League of Nations. They assert that under its covenant American boys can be sent abroad to fight at the direction of the League Council. In making these assertions they go exactly counter to the interpretations of the League Covenant made by Win Howard Taft, Gen. Wickersham, Elihu Root and other prominent Republicans, who maintain that American interests are amply safeguarded under the League as at present constituted.

USE LESS SUGAR FOR GOOD JELLY

Canning Experts of United States Department of Agriculture
Give Suggestions.

PROPER QUANTITY OF JUICE

Among Other Materials Which Can Be Used for Sweetening Are Honey, Maple Sirup, Corn Sugar, Molasses and Other Sirups.

A good jelly should be bright, clear, and of an attractive color. When removed from the glass it should retain the shape of the mold. Jelly of the right consistency can be cut with a distinct cleavage, retaining the angles where cut. It should sparkle and be tender enough to quiver without breaking.

Wash the fruits, remove stems, and cut large fruits into pieces. With berries, grapes, and currants add one cupful of water for each pound of fruit. For apples, quinces, and other hard fruits add three cupfuls of water to each pound of sliced fruit. Cook until tender. Fruit juices flow more freely when heated.

As soon as the fruit is tender it should be put into a jelly bag and allowed to drip. If the fruit is over-cooked, a cloudy jelly is apt to result.

Can Be Made With Less Sugar.

Good jellies can be made with much less sugar than many housekeepers thought possible a few years ago.
Some persons like these products made with less sugar better than the old-fashioned kinds that were sometimes so sweet that the flavor of the fruit was spoiled. Canning experts of the United States department of agriculture give the following suggestions for using sugar economically:

Reduce the amount of sugar ordinarily used by one-fifth or one-fourth—that is, use four-fifths, or three-fourths cupful of sugar instead of the whole cup called for in the recipe. In the case of non-acid fruits

Remove Jelly From Stove When It Will "Sheet Off" From Spoon.

particularly, the absence of sugar will be less noticeable if one-fourth teaspoonful of salt is added for each cupful of fruit juice. The salty taste will disappear after the product has stood for a few weeks, but the favor will be richer than if the salt were not used.

Another way to save sugar is to substitute for part of the granulated sugar called for in the recipe, honey, maple sirup, corn sugar, molasses, the new malt sirups, which are superior to those formerly on the market, or one of the other sirups sold under various trade names. Some of these sweeteners have a distinctive flavor, and at first it may be best to use those only with fruits that have a pronounced flavor of their own, such as grapes, cranberries, plums, currants, and loganberries.

Quantity of Juice for Jelly.

About two quarts of juice boiled rapidly in a shallow pan gives a jelly with better color and consistency.

When the proportion of sugar to juice has been determined, measure the fruit juice and place over the fire to cook. When the juice begins to boil add the sugar immediately and stir until the sugar is dissolved. When the sugar is dissolved cook the juice as rapidly as possible. Long, slow cooking tends to darken the product and to destroy the pectin, which will cause the jelly to be less firm.

A good means of determining when the cooking is finished is to test the jelly with a spoon or paddle. Dip the spoon in the boiling sirup, remove, cool by moving it back and forth for a few seconds, and then allow the jelly to drip from it. As long as there is sirup present, it will run from the spoon. When the jelly point is reached, it will break from the spoon in flakes or sheets. Remove from the fire immediately and skim.
Skimming at this time saves waste.
After skimming pour at once into hot scalded glasses and set aside to cool.
Cool as rapidly as possible.

For Cleaning a Basin.
To clean a basin or bathtub put a little coarse salt into the dampened tub or basin, and then rub it over thoroughly with a cloth dipped in turpentine.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

President.

JAMES M. COX,
of Ohio.

Vice President

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, of New York.

United States Senator
J. C. W. BECKHAM, of Frankfort, Ky.

Congress
J. RALPH GILBERT,
Of Shelbyville.

Gilbert Answers Morris

Judge Ralph Gilbert acquitted himself very well in his first speech of the campaign at Liberty, October 4, where he met Major Jackson Morris, one of the mountain spellbinders of the Republicans in joint debate and the major is some debater at that. For instance, he has put every possible misrepresentation of the League of Nations on the tip of his tongue, the same as King Swope has, and everywhere he goes he turns these loose. The ignorant or unthinking believe him naturally, just as they believe the bigger speakers of his party, whose size as speakers is equal to their ability at misrepresenting the League. But Morris is regarded as a "big gun" himself, for he debated with Senator Hitchcock and other big Democrats the same issue, even though he didn't make much of an impression on the crowds who heard him.

At Liberty, Morris spoke for fifty minutes, doing a wonderful amount of misrepresentation of the League in that short time. He used the usual stock arguments in regard to the treaty of peace—that it was written by an Englishman, that it took Shantung from China and gave it to Japan, while as a matter of fact, it took Shantung from Germany and not from China at all; that England would have six votes to one of the United States in the Assembly of the League, and all such claptrap as is being published as the statements of Republican orators.

Judge Gilbert promptly disputed the truth of these statements and read extracts from the speeches of former President William H. Taft, Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale, President-emeritus Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard, Professor Lowell, of Harvard, and other Republicans, to show that Morris didn't know what he was talking about or if he did know was doing like other Republican spellbinders, deliberately misrepresenting the League and its provisions. Judge Gilbert defied Morris to name a great humanitarian, a church or any great civic organization opposed to the League. He couldn't do it. Judge Gilbert called attention to the fact that the only opposition to the League was from Republican politicians and asked the people whom they would follow—the churches and the professors of history in the Universities or the "loud-mouthed politicians."

Answering Morris' criticism of war expenditures, Judge Gilbert showed that many of the very best enterprises Morris criticized were directed by Republicans and Judge Gilbert contrasted the efficiency with which the World War was managed, so far as America's participation was concerned, with the disgraceful mismanagement and inefficiency of the Republican conduct of the Spanish-American War.

It was conceded that the Republicans made the most noise in the matter of applause, for in Casey County they are a great deal more numerous, but the Democrats rallied to Judge Gilbert's support and gave him a genuinely glad hand at every point he scored on his adversary. It is generally believed that the full Democratic vote of the district will be at the polls and this means that Congressman Swope will be a one-term.

This paper hopes that every Democrat will not only go to the polls and support the national nominees, Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt, but that they will give Senator Beckham and Judge Gilbert their earnest support and their vote, November 2nd. There is one perfectly safe way to vote and that is to stamp under the Rooster, the Democratic bird whose crowing the morning of November 3rd, will mean that America has not turned her back on the agreement made by the world's leading statesmen as a means of ending wars forever.

Savers And Spenders.

Can you recall the little incidents of your young days?

Perhaps you remember some child who was "close" with his pennies, who put them in his bank and kept them there.

That child, even in its tender years, was imbued with the habit of saving, was cultivating the budding idea of thrift.

If you can locate that child today you will probably find a man who has made a commercial success of life, who is financially at ease, even if not wealthy.

The child who saves his pennies in time becomes the man who accumulates his dollars.

But the one who spends his pennies as fast as he gets them generally finds that in after years the habit has fastened itself upon him to such an extent that his life becomes one of endless spending, always earning money but never having a surplus dollar.

The greatest financial injury you can do your child is to encourage it to go out and spend its few cents.

It marks the beginning of a bad ending.

For it is easier for the leopard to change its spots than for the spender to be anything but what he is.

Looks Like Gilbert

Has His Race Won.

Registration results in cities of the Eighth Congressional District augur a Democratic victory in that district in the coming Presidential election.

In the special election of August, 1919 this district sent King Swope, Republican to Congress, but in the regular election last year in the face of the Republican landslide throughout the State it returned to the Democratic column.

An analysis of the registration figures in the cities of the district indicates that it will go Democratic this year by even a more decisive margin than it did last year. This will mean the election of Judge Ralph Gilbert to Congress and the defeat of King Swope, who is running for reelection.

The facts as to the principle towns in the Eighth District are: Shelbyville, which usually registers about 75 Republicans went 32 Democratic on the face of the registration, for the first time in its history. This is an overturn of 107 votes.

Lawrenceburg which usually goes 100 Democratic has increased to 200 Democratic.

Nicholasville which usually goes about 30 Republican is showing a Democratic margin of 112 votes on the face of the 1920 registration. This is a switch of 142.

Harrodsburg normally breaks about even. It went 67 Democratic in the registration.

Richmond ordinarily goes 150 Republican. It shows a Democratic registration majority of 125 today. This is a switch of 275 votes.

Danville which usually goes about 125 Republican went 13 this time, a gain of 112.

In these six cities the Democrats have gained more than 800 over past showings in presidential election years. As the rural sections of all of these counties except Madison which contains Richmond, are normally Democratic, the Democratic managers assert that no conclusion except that of Democratic victory can be drawn from these figures. The best political observers in the Eighth District believe that it will go from 4000 to 5000 Democratic.

TUTTLE

One of the saddest deaths that ever occurred in this community, was the passing away of Mr. Milton Tuttle, of Barboursville, Oct. 4th., at 10 A. M. at the home of his son Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tuttle on the Buckeye road.

Only twelve days before his wife was stricken with flux and passed to the other side. He returned to Lancaster with his sons, Messrs Henry and Charlie Tuttle for a visit and on Sept. 23rd., he was taken very ill with the same disease. He had the best medical aid obtainable and every thing that loved ones could do was done for him. Just before he expired, he made a beautiful talk, saying that he was ready and so anxious to join his wife, who was waiting for him in the land beyond.

Mr. Tuttle was a native of Knox County. He was sixty-six years old, a faithful member of the Baptist Church and an excellent and highly respected citizen. He is survived by seven children, four sons, and three daughters, all residing in Knox Co., but Messrs Henry and Charlie Tuttle, who live here. The body was taken to Barboursville for burial, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tuttle and Mr. Edd Lane and was laid to rest by the side of his beloved wife. Much sympathy is felt here for the bereaved family.

Are You Hungry?

Then come to the Mason School House on Saturday evening, Oct. 23, at 7:30 o'clock, at which time and place, there will be held an entertainment and pie supper for the benefit of the school. Everybody come and help a good cause.

Look at This, Wont You

Stanford Creamery Co., lead them all—they are sending out checks today to their patrons, paying them 40 cents for every pound of fat delivered during the month of September. Those who shipped and sold to cream stations well know they averaged several cents less. The Stanford Creamery seems to be able every month to pay more than all other buyers. Ship them your cream, they pay all express charges and return your can promptly.

Why don't our Gaillard county people ship their cream to Stanford?
All things being equal they should do so, and especially should they do so when the Stanford Creamery pays more than anyone else. (11)

WHAT'S DOING IN POLITICS

No Democratic campaign in Kentucky was ever marked by such a galaxy of speakers as is appearing in this State at present. Governor Cox, the Democratic standard bearer, will be in Kentucky on October 7th and 8th, Elizabethtown, Bowling Green, Paducah and Louisville being his principal stops. His running mate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, toured the State last Friday and Saturday.

Secretary of State Colby will be in Louisville on the night of October 22nd. Colby is one of the finest speakers in the country, and will no doubt attract Democrats from out of the State as well as in Louisville.

A notable array of the nation's law-makers will also campaign the State for the Democratic cause. Vice President Thos. R. Marshall is booked in Kentucky for October 18th, 19th and 20th. Senator J. Thos. Heflin of Alabama is in the State all of this week, as is Congressman Claude Weaver of Oklahoma. Congressman Edward R. Atton of Alabama will campaign the State during the week of October 18th. Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama will also be here on several dates not yet assigned.

An effort of the Republican National Headquarters to line up the churches against the League of Nations, is seen in the telegram sent to Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the First Christian Church at Louisville, by Fred B. Smith, a prominent Y. M. C. A. and Inter-church World Movement worker. Smith asked Dr. Powell to help him invite 75 clergymen from the Central West to make a pilgrimage to Harding's front porch at Marlon. Dr. Powell declined to become a party to such a move, and suggested that Mr. Smith "place a trumpet to his lips and blow a blast that would rally to the League of Nations every minister in the country." The Church Boards and Councils are already committed to the League of Nations, and this G. O. P. move is an effort to reverse them in their decisions.

Prospects for a Democratic victory in Kentucky never appeared brighter. The first week's straw vote in the Rexall drug stores throughout the State shows a total of 6,130 votes for Cox against 3,508 for Harding. Even in Louisville, which is under Republican control, Cox is running ahead with 363 to Harding's 280.

In a speech made at Baltimore Senator Harding frankly confessed to incompetence for the office of President of the United States. In response to a question from the audience about the League of Nations, he answered, "I am perfectly frank to say to you that I am without a single program constructive in character about an association of nations." After three years of world wide discussion of the principle of the League of Nations, here is a candidate for President who confesses that he hasn't got an idea on the subject. Can you beat it?

The majority of the leaders of the Bull Moose party, disgusted with the reactionary control of the Republican party, have definitely announced their support of the Democratic ticket, and appeal to all progressives to vote for Cox. Among them are Harold L. Ickes and Antoinette Funk, both of whom were delegates to the Republican National Convention at Chicago; Ben R. Lindsey, Colorado, founder of the juvenile courts; Francis J. Heney, of San Francisco, who purged California politics of corrupt corporation influence; John M. Parker, Louisiana, who was Theodore Roosevelt's candidate for Vice President on the Progressive ticket. Their action will influence thousands of independent voters to line up with Cox.

Pershing said, "Lafayette, we are here." Harding echoes, "Lafayette, we have quit."

In striking contrast to Senator Harding's opposition to the Federal Farm Loan Act and his advocacy of one dollar wheat, is Gov. Cox's aggressive campaign to help Ohio farmers buy tractors. In 1918 Gov. Cox deposited two million dollars of the State Industrial Commission money in country banks, so that part of it could be loaned to farmers to buy tractors. He then secured a ruling from the Federal Reserve Bank that notes given by farmers purchasing tractors be discounted on the same basis as agriculture implement paper. By these means Ohio farmers were enabled to buy that year 1,932 farm tractors, doubling the number in the State.

The Republican campaign handbook omits the covenant of the League of Nations entirely. Perhaps they did not consider the League of Nations an issue in this campaign.

"Dollar wheat makes a very profitable occupation to a farmer who farms a farm."—Senator Harding. PAY JOYS GET THE MONEY.

A Secret Fox

By CECILE LANGDON

The first experience Verne Dysart had as to any particular devotion to a special member of the opposite sex was with Blanche Diston. A heartless coquette, she demonstrated her flimsy characteristics speedily, played with a sterling soul the homage of which would have won the appreciation of any worthy woman, and disenchanted Dysart, who was later glad to have got beyond her thrallhold.

It was then that he met Lois Manville. "I might have had Verne Dysart just by speaking the word, many a time," boasted Blanche, and acted the satisfied heart breaker with scores of beauty as victims. All the same, secretly she often realized that there was not one among them who was the equal of Dysart.

"Oh, he is doing so well," Lois told Blanche one day. "You know he has his own studio now and has more orders than he can fill. Since he won the prize on that Liberty bond poster it seems to have advertised him everywhere."

Dysart was indeed gifted and successful in the special line of work he had adopted. He made quite a hit with poster illustrations of a famous movie actor, and his name had appeared many times with an approving word in motion picture miscellany. It resulted in his having the entire poster work of a leading producing concern and the gratified lovers were enabled to plan ahead as to the pretty cottage home that was their ideal.

Blanche rarely met Dysart, but she called upon Lois frequently. More than once, even after she and the young artist understood each other, she had exerted her wiles to attract him anew from the perverse influence of a certain feeling of jealousy toward Lois. Dysart, however, was firmly loyal to his real love.

It was with a good deal of satisfaction that she saw Lois enter the store where she clerked one day. The former made some trivial purchases, and too inexperienced and innocent to suspect the undercurrents of falsity in a person she had known for years, began telling of some new triumphs Dysart had acquired in his work, how happy they were, and hinting at a wedding not far ahead.

"Yes, I hear that Verne is sweeping all before him," observed Blanche. And then, with hidden malice: "Don't you think it a bit dangerous, dear, to have a fiance who is brought so continually in contact with the handsomest star of the scenic world?"

"Oh, dear, no," exclaimed Lois. "Verne only draws them, as he would a chair or a building. He is so wrapped up in me. I often wonder what he sees in my poor little self to attract him."

"Verne was here a day or two ago," went on Blanche. "Not at my counter, but over in the fancy dress department. He selected a gown that was a dream in its lovely material and trimming. I learned that he had it sent to the address of a lady and paid the bill over one hundred dollars."

"Oh! you must be mistaken, Blanche," declared Lois, all the sunshine gone out of her face in an instant. "You mistook some one else for Verne."

"Not at all," insisted Blanche decidedly. "Why, Myra Grimes, who knows him was here at the time. You know, she works in a jewelry place. She told me Verne had bought diamonds twice at the establishment."

"It must have been in some way along with his business," murmured Lois, trying to appear calm, but dreadfully disturbed. She went home wretched. Verne noticed her visible constraint when he called that evening, but Lois did not reveal what was on her mind.

"Can you drop into my studio some time tomorrow?" he asked in parting.

Lois assented. Back and forbidding fears and fantasies kept her miserable until the next day. As she entered the studio she found Verne alone. He greeted her affectionately and pointed to a sketch on an easel. It was that of a woman attired in a haunting garb of extraordinary grace as to figure and pose. Her face was partly veiled, but her eyes were vicious and expressive.

"A dusky Jane," explained Dysart; "that is the work I have on hand. That is Lucille Travers, who is a coquette and making a star in the movie world. She is new to the screen, something of an experiment, and I have had to practically arrange her entire makeup for the management. Why, Lois, what are you staring at?"

Her eyes were fixed upon the light filmy dress depicted on the sketch as also upon the jeweled adornment of the model. She half comprehended, as its original, a woman over fifty, with a grown-up daughter with her, entered the studio.

"Mr. Dysart, I will be back at five to finish the picture. The manager's wife is going to select the rest of my costume. Here is a check from the manager for the dress and diamonds you bought for me on his order."

And as the visitors fitted away Lois went up to Verne and put her arms about his neck and kissed him. She could not trust herself to speak. Secretly she registered a solemn vow that never again should the shadow of a doubt as to his loyalty and worthiness enter her mind.

Ten cents worth of oil will often prevent ten dollars worth of rust. Yet many excellent people fail to give this fact even a passing thought.

Take a tour over this town. You will find garden tools that have been discarded for the summer standing around in corners exposed to the weather. Lawn mowers will be resting on the grass in the morning dew or after a rain. Hatchets, hammers—even saws—may be found out of doors. Wheelbarrows, carts and other articles are the same.

Use ten cents worth of oil on them and put them under cover and they will be in prime condition for use when required. But leave them to the mercy of rust and the elements and soon they will become junk instead of tools.

Drive out onto the farms, and in many cases the same conditions will confront you.

Wagons, buggies, farm machinery—much of it delicate in mechanism and expensive in cost—is standing out in the yards or fields while sheds are empty.

Every day the parts are becoming weaker by the rapid accumulation of rust—going to decay through thoughtlessness and neglect.

Only a little oil and a little care!

But—!

How many of you have children in school?

How many of you can tell off hand what grades your children are in?

How many of you know the books your children are studying, the size of the lessons the teacher assigns, or the progress the little ones are making?

How many of you take time occasionally to run over the lessons with your children?

How many of you think to commend them for the interest they are taking and for the advancement they have made?

There was a time when you were young—when you worried your juvenile brain over problems which seemed mountains then, but are so simple now.

Commendation and encouragement were sweet to you then.

They are just as precious to your children now.

Do they receive them?

If you ever see the careworn editor of this sheet skipping down the street like a kid with its first toy, don't become alarmed over his mental condition. Such a phenomenon may occur some time within the next half century. We are living in yearly anticipation of a decline in the price of print paper, and hope some day to see it come sliding down through the deep blue sky. In the meantime you are getting this paper for about one-half the price we have every legitimate right to charge.

A Louisville newspaper reporter who has been travelling through the State with Franklin D. Roosevelt predicts that Kentucky will go Democratic by 60,000 majority. This reporter says that the audiences show conclusively that the women are going to vote, and that this predicted majority depends on whether the men will vote. In his opinion Kentucky has never looked as favorable to the Democrats a month before the election as it does today.

* The reported secession of the Borah-Johnson radical wing of the Republican party from the present campaign, may be due partly to Harding's expression of his opinion of Hiram Johnson in Harding's editorial, the Marion Star in 1912. Of him Harding said "He appears at close view to be both a faker and a blackguard."

Good Will Triumphant Under Test

As this message is being written, Dodge Brothers' daily, weekly and monthly production, is at the highest point in its history.

The most casual sort of inquiry will satisfy you that this production is being absorbed as it is delivered.

Within sight and sound as we write, a great addition to Dodge Brothers' immense works, is being rushed to completion.

The interesting thing about this situation is, that it is not likely that a half a hundred people have ever bought Dodge Brothers Motor Car just because they wanted a motor car.

Of the more than half a million who have bought it—the overwhelming majority did so because of the name it bore.

It has always been treated, by the American people in particular, as an exception—always set apart, and singled out, and never judged by ordinary standards.

It has always been thought of, and is still thought of, first, and foremost, and all the time, only in terms of its goodness, and the results it gives.

All of this is wonderful, in one way, and quite natural and logical in another.

It all dates back to the day when John and Horace Dodge conceived and designed and finally built the car—after warning each other, and their associates, not even to think of it in any other terms than the best obtainable value.

They began with a few almost absurdly simple principles, bluntly expressed and rigidly executed, about decency and honor and integrity—such as most of us wrote in our copy books at school.

They reduced these old copy book maxims to a splendid and scientific system, pouring more, and more, and still more value into the car, and then marshalling all the resources of modern massed manufacture to get their product into the hands of the people at an honorable and an honest cost.

These policies and principles have never been changed, and never will be changed, by so much as a hair's breadth; and they have come to be recognized and accepted as Dodge Brothers' principles wherever motor cars are driven.

It has all hapened as John and Horace Dodge planned it, quite simply, naturally and automatically, all over America, and all over the world.

People do discriminate, as Dodge Brothers contended they would; people will find out when a motor car is well built and gives good value.

Dodge Brothers market today is where they planned to locate and establish it—in the mind and the heart of every man and woman who admires good work well done.

It will last, and it will keep on growing, as it has kept on growing for five years (faster than Dodge Brothers' works could keep pace with it,) as long as the number of those who believe that a manufacturer should build to serve and not merely to sell, continues to increase.

All is well with Dodge Brothers today because John and Horace Dodge build well in the beginning, and because their business will continue to build well until the end.

SILENT ALAMO

Takes Up The National Farm Light & Power Week.

More and more the realization grows that the isolated lighting plant is one of the great modern achievements in farm progress.

Recently we were apprised of a National Farm Light and Power Week which is to be celebrated throughout the entire country during the week of October 2 to October 9—by the most progressive dealers.

This national movement is designed to direct the attention of the farm owners of the whole country at one time toward the advantages of electric light and power as supplied by the isolated or unit plant.

This is a great movement designed to ultimately do immeasurable good.

In our vicinity, Becker & Ballard, who are local dealers for the Nationally Famous Silent Alamo, the plant of "No Ruinous Vibration" fame, will celebrate the great week. It is claimed that this wonderful plant is so perfectly designed that it will operate efficiently for an unlimited time without being anchored to a special foundation.

Exhibitions will be given showing the Silent Alamo operating while mounted on three flimsy water glasses.

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth ten bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12 month's subscription. All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered into the silo. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary,

And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding vigor. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subscriptions even to the third and fourth generations.

NECESSARY CARE FOR FOALS

As Soon as Young Animal Gains Strength Enough to Be on His Feet Let Him Nurse.

Foals should nurse after they gain strength enough to get on their feet and walk around. In the case of weak or very crooked-legged foals it may be necessary to assist them in getting the teat, but often an effort is made to force them to nurse before they are ready. Nature takes its own time on such occasions, and hurrying and bustling may do more harm than good. Before the foal nurses wash the mare's udder with a warm 2 per cent solution of a good coal-tar disinfectant and then rinse with warm water. The first milk which comes from the mare is known as colostrum and acts as a physic on the foal, causing the fecal matter in the intestines to be discharged; hence the folly of milking the mare before the foal comes merely because there appears to be too much milk in the udder. If the contents of the bowels are not ejected naturally within twenty-four hours, two to four tablespoonfuls of castor oil shaken in milk should be given, and it also may be advisable to inject warm water or two ounces of castor oil into the bowels. Repeat this treatment every three or four hours until the bowels move.

Mare and Young Foal.

Vaseline applied in the rectum may aid in ejecting subsequent dry matter.

To offset the danger of navel infection in foals (which causes a disease known as joint-ill), the navel cord should be washed several times a day by holding up around the cord a large-necked bottle which has been nearly filled with a 1 to 1,000 solution of corrosive sublimate (bichlorid of mercury), or by saturating the stump with full-strength tincture of iodine. Then dust it with powdered slaked lime. This should be repeated each day until the navel cord drops off. In case the navel does not dry properly or shows inflammation, a veterinarian should be called. Mares are inclined to be peevish or cross when with their young, consequently it is advisable to perform the foregoing precautions as speedily as possible, and then leave the foal to rest without being disturbed.

BREEDING SIRES AND DAMS

Figures Given Representing Conditions on More Than 2,000 Farms in United States.

Developments in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign have resulted in figures showing the relative number of males and females kept for breeding purposes. Following are the ratios based on more than 200,000 head of stock of all kinds listed with the United States department of agriculture:

Cattle.....1 bull to 18.9 cows.
Horses.....1 stallion to 16.9 mares.
Swine.....1 boar to 11.5 sows.
Sheep.....1 ram to 22 ewes.
Goats.....1 buck to 26.6 does.
Poultry.....1 rooster to 23.3 hens.
Other poultry, geese, ducks, turkeys, etc., (average).....1 male to 8.5 females.

These figures represent conditions on more than two thousand farms in various parts of the country, and are believed to be typical of other farms. They show the importance of placing stress on quality in sires, since in practically all cases a sire is the parent of a very much larger number of offspring than the average female animal.

SWINE RELISH SOYBEAN HAY

Use in Hog Ration Reduces Cost of Pork Production and Makes Better Grade of Meat.

For hog feeding operations, soybeans may be profitably fed in the form of mature hay which obliges the swine to nose out the beans and crack them like corn. The hogs relish the beans and hay and consume it with a minimum of waste while its use in the ration reduces the cost of pork production and makes for a better grade of meat with a nice blending and marbling of lean and fat.

INBREEDING REDUCES VIGOR

Any Weak Points Present in Blood Strain Brought to View Without Stint.

Inbreeding generally reduces the vigor, although it concentrates whatever good points happen to be present. If there are any bad points present in the blood strain it brings them to view remorselessly. It takes exceptionally good blood to withstand the test of inbreeding.

SOMETHING ABOUT COFFEE

Did you ever hear anyone say: "Have a cup of coffee like mother makes?"

No. They always say: "Coffee like mother used to make." Why? Because mother used to have fresh roasted coffee, roasting and grinding it as she used it.

We are living too fast to do as mother used to do, and, instead of roasting and grinding coffee as we used it, we are paying a traveling salesman's salary and expenses, the cost of a beautiful label, a tin can, a shipping crate, and many other expenses that force us to pay five to ten cents per pound more for stale coffee.

BLOOD IS FUEL TO THE BODY

Pumped Through The System By The Heart It Sustains The Muscles And Tissues

PEPTO-MANGAN HELPS BLOOD Keep The Quality Of Your Blood At Its Best—It Means Vigorous Health And Ability To Accomplish

Blood acts like a fuel. Pumped through the body by the heart, it sustains the muscles and tissues. It renews them. It feeds the brain—the tissues of the eye and face. That is why people look so pale and lifeless when blood is impoverished. The body tissues are being supplied with weak fuel. The blood has not enough red corpuscles. You would not eat poor food with no nourishment in it; no more should you let the fuel that supplies sustenance to your entire body be inferior. Have good blood. Improve the quality and keep it at its best.

If you look pale and feel weak, if you have lost your enthusiasm and energy, if your blood is clogged with poisons your system is being fed with a poor grade of blood. That is no way to go around. If you are not at your best get at the sources of the trouble right away. Put an end to half-living.

Take that ideal tonic, Pepto-Mangan, to tone up your blood and purify it. Get the full enjoyment out of living. Breathe the fresh air, take exercise.

Be sure to ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." It comes in convenient tablet form and liquid. One has the same medicinal value as the other. There is only one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and the name "Gude's" is on the package.

There is a marked difference in the character of the first two big political meetings held in Louisville. There was little difference in the size of the audience, Phoenix Hill being packed to capacity on each occasion.

At the Democratic Rally over half the crowd was composed of representative white women of the city and other leading citizens. The audience was not of the political type.

At the Republican Rally one fourth of the audience was colored, less than one tenth was composed of women, and the remainder was made up of the professional politician and his friends, the office holders of the city of Louisville and county. The character of the applause was the difference between that of spontaneous cheer and of the paid claque.

Each one in this town should have an intimate acquaintance with the requirements and possibilities of this community.

It is only through such means that we are enabled to take proper advantage of the opportunities that present themselves for community betterment.

Such an interest on the part of the populace does not end with community improvement. There is a personal equation which is of vast importance.

It deflects our minds from our private business affairs, gives them food for thought and development, affords us a broader perspective of life and its conditions, and strengthens us for the battles of the years that are before us.

It is a good thing in all ways. Hop to it!

Every man is born free in this country, but some do not long remain so after marriage.

Editors as a rule have very little to say of themselves. But that is probably because their critics have left nothing unsaid.

A kind word costs nothing. But perhaps the absence of a profiteering value is the reason why some people are so sparing in their use in these days of skyrocketing.

Big Business And

G. O. P. United.

The pernicious alliance of Big Business with the Republican Party was never more clearly illustrated than in a letter being sent out on the stationery of the United Drug Company signed by H. G. Simpson, sales manager of this Company. The United Drug Company is a concern which controls the Rexall stores and affiliated organizations. Mr. Simpson wrote a letter to a travelling salesman friend of his advising him to work his customers in favor of Senator Harding.

This letter is being distributed presumably by the Republican National Committee on stationery of the United Drug Company in facsimile form. There is little doubt that this contribution from the United Drug Company to the Republican party, will mean some special privilege to be conferred upon the wholesale drug industry by the Republican party if it is victorious this November.

WHAT'S DOING IN POLITICS

Registration figures throughout Kentucky prove highly encouraging to the Democratic party. Compared with the registration in the Presidential race in 1916 there is a decided gain in the Democratic majorities throughout the state. The only encouragement the Republican machinery received was in the city of Louisville where the throng of negro office holders and their friends piled up a large total. Despite this fact, Chairman John L. Gray, Chairman Democratic State Headquarters, is highly encouraged by the registration. "These figures," he declared, "indicate clearly what is happening throughout the State of Kentucky."

"The new voters, who are mainly women, have definitely aligned themselves with the Democratic party and the great moral cause it represents in the League of Nations."

"The gains made by our forces in the smaller cities were in many cases remarkable. There is absolutely no doubt that 75 per cent of the women's vote of the state will be cast for the Democratic ticket in November, which makes victory for the Democratic ticket in this state certain."

Characteristic of the Republican policy of taxation is the law enacted by the State Legislature relative to tobacco. This law fixes the burden on the farmer, who, with tobacco in his barn or in a hoghead being held for a better price, is required to pay a rate of 10 cents on the valuation. The tobacco speculator holding tobacco from the same grade, whether or not it is in hogheads, is required to pay a rate of only 15 cents on the same valuation. The Republican party is no friend of the tobacco farmer.

Governor Ed Morrow has gotten himself in a pretty tangle because of a speech he made, deliberately misrepresenting the League of Nations. This ballyhoo orator told his audience that the United States could be forced to send an army to Slam or Timbucto without the consent of Congress. When Franklin D. Roosevelt twitted him, on his knowledge of geography, the governor answered that he might not know geography, but he certainly does know American history. Whereupon Mr. W. W. Davies gave Gov. Morrow a little lesson in American history, accompanying it with the assertion that the governor knows less history than he knows geography.

Mr. Davies cited at least five treaties made by the United States in which the political integrity and independence of various nations are guaranteed by the United States. This is the exact verbiage of Article X which the Republican side show splendors declare will lead us into wars. Thus the Republican party wants to withdraw from the treaties guaranteeing the independence of Columbia, Liberia, Panama, Hawaii and Cuba. They signed these treaties under Republican presidents and nobody made the foolish claims that they would lead us into wars.

Being Republican candidate for Congress from the Fifth District, Congressman Charles F. Ogden naturally prefers black audiences to white. Last Monday he failed to respond to an invitation to address the Ministerial Association of Louisville, composed of white ministers. A week before, however, he displayed great alacrity in making a speech to an assembly of colored preachers and colored church women. Because of Ogden's non-appearance at this meeting, James H. Richmond, Democratic nominee for Congress, has challenged him to debate on the League of Nations. He has as yet received no reply.

How long do you want to carry the burdens of the Republican party? The Republican Congress of 1918-20 has appropriated five billion four hundred million dollars to be spent this year. THIS IS THE LARGEST PEACE-TIME APPROPRIATION EVER MADE IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Republican Tax Commission in Kentucky has increased taxes to the highest point ever known in this state by boosting all assessments.

The Republican City Administration in Louisville has imposed the highest tax rate and the largest assessment ever known to the citizens of Kentucky's metropolis.

Everywhere the record is the same. Wherever the Republican party administers government, there taxes are unprecedently high.

The Louisville News, a negro newspaper of Louisville, is making a terrible onslaught on Senator Pat Harrison, Chairman of the Democratic Speakers' Bureau, comparing him, of course to his disparagement, with the negroes who were sent to the Congress from Mississippi during the carpet-bagging days. In this connection the paper says: "When negroes ruled Mississippi our delegations were composed of statesmen who kept faith with their oaths to keep the Constitution, who consecrated themselves to the great problems of democracy."

Do you want these negro statesmen reinstated in office? If so, vote for Senator Harding, who has promised to give them full representation—black men and black women—in the offices of the country.

SUN BIG FACTOR IN DRYING CORN

Dried Vegetable Is Delicious, Requires No Cans and Is Easy to Keep Stored.

QUICK WORK IS NECESSARY

Gather When Kernels Are in Milk Stage, Before Glazing Has Begun—Dry Until Grains Are Hard and Semi-Transparent.

A vegetable which, when dried, is above criticism even by the most critical, is corn. Other kinds of garden products may or may not be liked by many people, but dried corn is the equal if not the superior of canned corn and can be used for practically as wide a variety of purposes. The following directions for drying it are those advised by the United States department of agriculture.

Any of the varieties of sweet corn having qualities desirable for table use will make a good dried product. Corn intended for drying should be gathered when in the milk stage, before glazing and hardening have begun and when the corn is in an ideal condition for immediate table use. It should be gathered only as it can be prepared for drying, as corn deteriorates rapidly.

Careful Preparation Essential.

Husk the ears and trim with a knife to remove any injuries. The silk need not be removed, as it can be readily separated from the corn after drying. Place the ears in wire baskets or wire-bottom boxes and plunge into boiling water for 8 to 12 minutes, or until the milk is set. A little salt may be added to the water if desired. Divide the corn into older and younger lots before blanching, as the younger ears require somewhat longer cooking than the older ones.

After cooking, remove corn from the water, allow it to drain and cool sufficiently to be handled and cut from the cobs with a strong, sharp knife, taking care that none of the cob is removed with the kernels. The glumes or the hull attachments at the tip of the grains are easily screened out after the corn becomes dry. Spread the kernels upon trays to a depth of one inch if drying is done in a drier, or one-eighth to five-eighths inch if the corn is to be dried in the sun. Stir the grains thoroughly several times during the drying to break up any compact masses.

Sun Factor in Drying Corn.

It is practically impossible to bring corn to a sufficient degree of dryness by the unaided heat of the sun. If corn is dried in the sun it should be finished by pouring into bread pans, placing in the oven of the stove, and entering to 100 degrees to 165 degrees F. for two hours. Whether the drying is done in the sun, in a cook-stove drier, or in a commercial drier, it should be continued until the grains are hard, semi-transparent, and will break with clean, glass-like fractures if crushed.

Before storing free the corn of silks, glumes, and bits of cob. This may be done by pouring the corn from one vessel to another in a strong draft. When the corn is dry, store in closely woven muslin bags or heavy paper bags. Tie tightly at the neck and place within a large bag, which also should be tightly tied.

Do not allow the drying process to stop from the time it is started until the corn is fairly dry. Corn is a product which contains considerable sugar and protein, and if the drying process is allowed to stop bacteria are apt to develop and souring take place. Protect it from insects. If sun drying is interrupted by cloudy weather or showers, remove corn to the stove and continue drying or the product may spoil.

For Shampooing Hair.

If you have oily hair, try, when shampooing it, the juice of one lemon instead of soap. Lemon cleans the hair and scalp perfectly and it cuts the oil.

Improve Coffee Flavor.

When making coffee sprinkle a little salt on the coffee before pouring on boiling water, and the flavor will be wonderfully improved.

One man with a riding plow can cultivate this 60 acres. Corn has been raised on the land continuously. Come and see what it has on it this year. The balance of the land lies well and is in a high state of cultivation, well watered and close to the Preachersville Graded School, one fourth mile from pike, has six rooms, brick house, one tobacco barn, one splendid stock barn, one new tenant house, well fenced, level road from pike to residence. Three miles from Crab Orchard, one mile from Preachersville on the Lancaster and Crab Orchard pike, adjoining Geo. Suttons, and known as the Shanks farm.

BRASS BAND WILL BE ON HAND TO ENTERTAIN YOU.

Mr. Stephen Walker, on the farm, will show anyone interested before day of sale or call HUGHES AND McCARTY, Stanford, for any information.

You men who have boys, stand by them. Put them on this farm.

Many a boy would have been a successful man, had his father encouraged and made his boy his partner, instead of scaring him to death.

What man is there in Lincoln County, who has bought land in the past thirty years has not made a success? Tobacco will bring a good price. There was more tobacco consumed in the last twelve months, than was ever used in the history of the country.

How do we know? Statistics show it. Every county is organized, consumers want the tobacco and the manufacturers will pay for it.

COME AND SEE THIS GOOD FARM SELL. EVERYBODY COME.

I want to see you if you don't make a bid.

J. I. HAMILTON.

LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

THE ARTISTS' TRIO

School Auditorium Oct.
21st., 1920.

USUAL NOVELTY and genuine artistic excellence—a rare and most desirable combination—are delightfully united in the programs of The Artists' Trio Company whose merit has been unquestionably tried and proved by the successful record of its members in Lyceum and Chautauqua work during the past three years.

VERA MacKELVIE, cartoonist and soprano; Corinne Jessop, reader and soprano; Vivian Graves, contralto, composed the company and each fits perfectly into the plan of the organization both from the standpoint of individual and ensemble work.

The short skirt decreed by fashion has at least one redeeming feature. Women won't have to elevate them when a poor innocent mouse comes gamboling around.

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and feverish colds," declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Thedford's

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary Q. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

Insist on the genuine—Thedford's.
